Decided in the United States Suprems Court in Favor of Mrs. Stanford. WASHINGTON, March 3.-Mr. Justice Harlan, in the supreme court of the United States, announced the decision of the court in the case of the United States vs. Jane 1. Stanford, executrix of the late Seaster Stanford, in favor of the executrix.

Stanford's proportion as a stockholder Mrs. H. Blake, South Berwick, Maine. of the Central Pacific Railroad Co., of the alleged liability of the corporation to the United States for bonds advanced to it by the government where the decision was also against the United States.

The justice said that the acts of congress of 1862, 1864 and 1865 all related to the subject, and must be considered as a whole when their application to that subject is to be learned. The act of 1863 and 1864 provided for the sale of the railroads and their property in case the corporations failed to pay the bonds, as the full extent of the protection congress deemed it necessary to make for the repayment of its debts by the companies. Not one of these acts contains a clouse imposing personal liability upon stockholders for the debts of the corporations. Conbe fatal craze of free trade, and to restore the gress could have done so, but failed, nation to a condition of prosperity and happi- and stockholders therefore are not Resolved. That the delegates to the National to be held liable. The state it was of California regulating the perthe justice, could not be held to Reselved. That the bold and able canvass of apply except upon the theory that congress intended to require a greater seeific than for that to the Union Pacific. and there was no evidence in the legislation of any intent to make such diserimination. The judgment of the lower courts was uffirmed.
